Dear agents,

We hope this letter finds you hungry for the greatest adventure of your literary career.

The Vagabond Cookbook is the product of a modern odyssey, spanning 35 countries and nearly 7 years. It contains the stories of 50 extraordinary encounters, each of which inspired the creation of a recipe. Together they spin a remarkable tale that breaks expectation at every turn. Think Anthony Bourdain meets Humans of New York.

What fueled this adventure? The courage of the traveler, the generosity of strangers and one simple idea - trading food for stories.

It all began with the meeting of two strangers - a storyteller and a cook, who collided outside a bookshop in Paris and decided to travel to the ends of the earth together. That's us. Cameron and Guglielmo. We decided to travel to Singapore together without flying, and that was just the beginning.

Surviving our journey together was truly a miracle. Like Kitchen Confidential, Into the Wild or Shantaram our account reads like a piece of fiction too marvelous to be believed. So it's a good thing we brought back proof : A set of 5 hard drives was carried throughout the entire trip with countless photographs and hours of footage inside. Somehow they all made it in one piece, filling our book with authentic and spellbinding imagery.

The real proof however lives in the memories of the people that we met along the way. Mountain guides, pilgrims, rebels, princes and one heroic chicken farmer. We often put our lives in their hands, the hands of complete strangers, and in return they gave us the story of a lifetime. A story that belongs in the bookshop we once met in front of.

There is much more where this came from. Our first film about the journey is hitting festivals this Summer, we are still in our 30's and we have more than a few ideas about how to reignite our network. With a proper team behind us, there's no telling what we can accomplish. So if you enjoy traveling, meeting incredible people and eating phenomenal food we hope you will be on board.

Sincerely yours,

Cameron Starr & Guglielmo Sartor
